Product Description

Magnesium Ascorbyl Phosphate CAS 113170-55-1 natural plant extracts

Description

Magnesium ascorbyl phosphate is a stable result of the combination of magnesium and vitamin C (ascorbic acid). It is a potent water-soluble antioxidant and a skin-brightening agent.

Since magnesium ascorbyl phosphate is stable and aids in the skin's absorption of vitamin C, it is frequently used in cosmetic formulations. By scavenging free radicals, protecting the skin from environmental damage, and promoting collagen synthesis, it helps to provide the appearance of younger skin.

Given that it is well-tolerated by all skin types, this component is an excellent choice for skincare products that address hyperpigmentation, anti-aging, and general skin health.

Application

Anti-Aging Skincare: Magnesium ascorbyl phosphate is a common ingredient in anti-aging serums and creams since it helps to promote skin suppleness and reduce the appearance of fine lines, wrinkles, and dark spots.

Skin Brightening Formulations: This chemical is found in makeup products designed to even out and enhance skin tones, making skin appear more radiant.

Sun Care Products: Magnesium ascorbyl phosphate is added to sunscreens and after-sun care products to provide antioxidant protection and help the skin recover from sun exposure.
