Product Description*Magnesium Ascorbyl Phosphate CAS 113170-55-1*Description

A stable byproduct of combining magnesium with vitamin C (ascorbic acid) is magnesium ascorbyl phosphate. It is a powerful skin-brightening agent and an important water-soluble antioxidant.

Magnesium Ascorbyl Phosphate is a common ingredient in cosmetic formulations because of its stability, which helps the skin absorb Vitamin C benefits. It contributes to a more youthful complexion by scavenging free radicals, shielding the skin from environmental harm, and boosting collagen synthesis.

This component is a great option for skincare products that target hyperpigmentation, anti-aging, and general skin health because it is well-tolerated by all skin types.

Application

Anti-Aging Skincare: To increase skin suppleness and lessen the appearance of fine lines, wrinkles, and dark spots, magnesium ascorbyl phosphate is a common ingredient in anti-aging serums and creams.

Skin Brightening Formulations: The ingredient is present in cosmetics meant to balance and brighten skin tones, giving the appearance of more radiant skin.

Sun Care Products: To offer antioxidant protection and aid in the skin's recovery from sun exposure, magnesium ascorbyl phosphate is added to sunscreens and after-sun care products.
