Product Description

Pine Bark Extract CAS 133248-87-0

Description

Pine Bark Extract is derived from the bark of certain pine tree species and is known for its potent antioxidant properties. In cosmetic formulations, Pine Bark Extract is highly valued for its ability to scavenge free radicals, protect the skin from environmental damage, and reduce the signs of aging. It helps improve skin elasticity, promote collagen production, and maintain skin's youthful appearance. Additionally, this extract contains proanthocyanidins, which contribute to its potential to support blood vessel health and circulation, benefiting skin health.

Application

Anti-Aging Skincare: Pine Bark Extract is commonly used in anti-aging skincare products, such as serums and creams, to combat the signs of aging, improve skin firmness, and reduce the appearance of wrinkles and fine lines. Antioxidant-Rich Formulations: The extract is included in products designed to provide potent antioxidant protection, making it suitable for addressing various skin concerns related to oxidative stress. Wellness-Infused Cosmetics: Pine Bark Extract is found in formulations that emphasize the connection between skin health and overall well-being, promoting a holistic approach to skincare.
